

C005-CO Pink Granite Coast

This ragged coastline, which stretches from the Pointe de l'Arcouest to Trébeurden, is constituted almost entirely of the pink granite that inspired its name. Large rock formations spot the coastline. Time and harsh weather have taken their toll, eroding these rocks into unique forms, some resembling animals or everyday objects. Others balance on a hair and topple at the slightest brush of breath. On this wild and picturesque coast are located beaches and ports that delight vacationers. Several islands lie closely to the coast and are accessible at low tide. They have become sanctuaries for thousands of birds

Itinerary

Day 1 - Arrival at PERROS GUIREC. This seaside resort offers to the visitor a unique natural beauty of strange and grandiose landscapes, with pink granite rock structures given shape by millions of years of battery by wind and waves. Opposite the bird sanctuary of the Archipel des Sept-Iles, three vast fine-sand beaches await the laughter and running feet of vacationers, and the port opens itself to yachtsmen. Dinner, lodging and breakfast in a 3-star hotel by the beach

Day 2 - PERROS GUIREC – PLOUMANAC'H (12 km). You will begin at the yachting port and make your way to the coastal line. You will pass by a residential area of villas built at the start of the 20th century. Follow the coast to the Pointe du Château. You will continue along the lovely Trestrignel beach and the large beach of Trestaou, lined with palm trees. You will take the path of Douaniers which runs along the coast, weaving about the pink granit forms until you reach the Ploumanac'h lighthouse, and the beach and oratory of Saint Guirec, situated on the sand. You are only a short distance now from the port of Ploumanac'h, and your hotel - Dinner, lodging and breakfast in a 4-star hotel along the beach

Day 3 - TREGASTEL – PLOUMANACH (13 km).

Transfer by taxi to the hamlet of Landrellec. You will leave the shore at bottom of this bay to discover the covered alley of Kerguntuil (a burial ground 9 meters in length dating to 2000 BC) and the Kerguntuil's dolmen, one of the most imposing of Trégor. Then you will return to the seaside, walking along the Baie de Kervalos and several beaches Coz Porz beach, La Grève Blanche... before reaching Ile Renote (island) where you will discover a chaos of imposing pink granite formations and a covered path. Following the coastal path, continue along the Baie de Sainte Anne tand discover the tide mills built at the mouth of the Traouiero valley. Their history dates back to the 14th century, but the building that exists today was built in 1735. Lodging and breakfast in the same hotel. Dinner not included

Day 4 – PLEUMEUR BODOU – TREBEURDEN (14 or 19 km). Transfer by taxi to the hamlet of Saint Samson in Pleumeur Bodou where you will admire a chapel, a menhir and a fountain. The chapel built between 1575 and 1631 is a good example of Beau-noir style (family of architects established in the region around the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries) with its wall tower and the adjoining tower houses the staircase. The menhir, erected about 3000 years ago, holds virtuous powers! Previously, men and women came to rub it to reinforce for some, their virility, for others, their fertility. The fountain, meanwhile, had a healing power that attracted the sick. You will continue your hike through countryside towards the menhir of St Uzec then to the chapel Notre-Dame-des-Citeaux Penvern founded around 1300 by the Cistercian monks of Bégard. It would be one of the oldest chapels in the region. The adjoining fountain passed to cure many illnesses. You will return to the seaside to visit and tour the Ile Grande (5 km), landscape of moors lined with many beaches, creeks and marshes, and admire a beautiful covered alley. You will then go to the village of Trébeurden via the ponds of Quellern where lives a troop of wild horses. Dinner, lodging and breakfast in a 4-star manor-hotel.

Day 5 - TREBEURDEN – LANNION (16 km). From here you climb up the Castel overlooking the port, greet “Père Trébeurden”, a rock looking like a face! and – if the tide allows – discover the Ile Millau with its sandy moors, magnificent views, and covered alley. Once again on firm ground, you will follow the large beach of Tresmeur to the Pointe de Bihit. You will make your way across the Baie de Lannion by means of the coastal path, the beaches or the moors, and arrive at the Pointe Serval at the mouth of the Léguer River. You will hike to Lannion along the valley and towing paths which lead into the city. Your journey is at its end. Take time to discover the richness of the city’s architectural and patrimonial history. Back to Trebeurden by taxi - Lodging and breakfast in the same hotel. Dinner not included
